SOME THOUGHTS FROM THE BOARD,

This annual conference of the Hellenic Society of Chemotherapy (HSC) coincides with the anniversary of 20 years since the start of the activities of the Hellenic Sepsis Study Group (HSSG). The big successes of the HSSG the last 20 years are neither the 146 publications in peer-reviewed journals nor the guidelines for sepsis management; the real achievement is how HSSG brought medical doctors and scientists of three different generations together and managed to generate strong bonds of coalition. The outcome of this coalition is obvious: pioneering in precision medicine to help the critically ill as this was done by the Immu-noSep trial and by the registration of anakinra for COVID-19. Our Board can give only one promise: continue fighting for the scientific excellence of the medical generations to come,
